CURE FOR LUNG COMPLAINTS.

DOWNS' ELIXIR

Is a most effectual remedy for Lung and Liver Complaints. It cures Colds, Coughs, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Hoarseness, Bronchial Affections, Sinking in the Head, and Chronic Lung and Liver Complaints that if unrelieved carry off more than will be believed to the consumptive grave.

It is highly concentrated, and but a few cents, or six bottles at 50 cents and $1 per bottle.

Large numbers of certificates of its good effects have been published, and are constantly received into our hands. Try it, and it will speak for itself.

Prepared by DOWNS & PERKINS, ADDASON GRAHAM, SARGENT & EMERSON, WM MANN, A. P. GILD, and S. ALDEN. Bangor; E. Butler, and H. Bunker, Orono; D. & J. Fifield, Bucksport; W. H. W. Array, Frankfort; J. Hooper, Jr., S. S. Hatch & Co., and Geo. H. Gross, Castine; A. J. Whiting, and J. Littlefield, Ellsworth.

CHERRY PECTORAL

For the Cure of

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

In offering to the community this justly celebrated remedy, its proprietor is of the firmest and largest in not wishing to trifle with the afflicted, but frankly tell all from the depths of distressing disease and scenes of the sufferings of mankind, from which (by the blessing of God) it has relieved and restored many, to apply to the Throat and Lungs, the seat of consumption, and the terrible train of diseases which fasten upon those organs, and which (by the use of this remedy) are so speedily cured by it.

Many people have been and are now suffering from diseases of the throat and lungs, which they might easily be relieved of by the use of this medicine who do not believe its wonderful powers, and discourage

From the distinguished Professor of Chemistry and Materia Medica, Bowdoin College.

Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in recommending your preparation well as an unexceptionable article in my own family, for the benefits of my children. I have found it a safe and efficacious remedy in the hands of many others, in cases of adults, and in less degree of infants, and as a convenient and powerful remedy for colds and coughs, as well as more violent diseases of the throat and lungs.

Yours respectfully,

B. EMERSON.

Brunswick, Me., Feb. 1, 1849.

From an Overseer in the Hamilton Mills, Lowell.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: I have been cured of the worst cough, I ever had, by your Cherry Pectoral. Families should never be without it. Clergymen, who have occasion to use their voices much in speaking or singing, will find it the best medicine for relieving the throat, and preventing hoarseness.

Yours respectfully,

B. EMERSON.

Read the following, and see of this medicine is not a valuable, this patient and incessant cough, and the fact of its medicine is now spreading throughout the country.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: Sir—I have been afflicted with a dreadful cough for the last three years, and all the remedies I could obtain gave me no relief, until I commenced the use of your Cherry Pectoral, when gave me great relief, and I have been steadily gaining in strength, till my health is completely restored.

When I commenced using your medicine I had no confidence in it, as I had been deceived by certificates of cures performed by other medicines, which proved worthless in my case, but I was induced to try it, as I was willing to do anything for relief, and I am happy to say it has proved a perfect cure in my case.

Prepared and sold by JAMES C. AYER, Practical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

Sold by the following agents in Bangor: HALL, HOLDEN & GREEN, and GEO. A. LUDGER and A. P. GILD and H. W. THOMPSON, Hampden; H. BRADLEY & Co., Orono; Gilman, Milford; and by Druggists generally throughout the State.

Sewing by Machinery.

To Journeymen Tailors, Seamstresses, Employers, and all others Interested in Sewing of any description.

SEVERAL attempts have been made to produce Machines for Sewing, but they were found not many objections, and could be used to the advantage of profit.

SINGER & PHELPS' New Style Sewing Machine, invented by Isaac M. Singer and Orrin Phelps, and patented by Singer & Phelps, No 149 Fleet-street, Phelps Boston, Mass., is offered to the public as a perfect machine, and will be constructed and adapted to perform any kind of work, from the stitching of fine shirt bosoms to a ship's sail, as well as almost every description of leather. The needle is straight, and works perpendicularly upon the table of the machine, affording you an opportunity to adjust the fabric in any way—and the stitch may be regulated to any length, even to a half a stitch.

The stitch made by this machine is one which will not ravel or ripen, and the sewing can only be taken apart by cutting every stitch, which is done. From 500 to 1500 stitches, according to the fabric operated upon, may be taken per minute.

To bring this machine to perfection which labor and study have been expended upon it by the inventor, and the subscribers now offer the Relay Sewing Machine, feeling confident that it will correspond, upon trial, with the recommendation here given.

The results arising from the use of one of these machines, will be with ease with either of the two machines, will be six dollars per day. This operation is not confined to the manufacture of clothing only, but may be applied to sewing every description of harness, leather, jewelers' and many kinds of coal, &c.

This machine, with ordinary care, is warranted to run one year without repairs, and with the most careful and it is so simple in its construction, that it is easily learned and managed, that any person of ordinary ability may operate it.

The price of one of these machines, which is worked by a treadle, and capable of performing any ordinary kind of sewing, with silk, cotton, linen or woolen thread, complete with all its appendages and directions for operation

The machines are beautiful and neat in their appearance, and they take up little room, that they are no ornament to any lady's sewing apartment.

Any Agent, with whom exclusive arrangements will be made, is wanted in every city and town in the United States.

All applications for Agencies, and orders for machines, (which will be carefully packed and shipped to any part of the world) must be made to inquiries about their adaptation to different purposes, will be promptly attended to by the manufacturers. All letters must be post paid, and addressed to

CORDIAL.

THIS valuable Medicine has been thoroughly tested, and is the very best and most appropriate cure for Dysentery. We do not mean to say that it is a cure for all diseases, but we do say that in 1849 this Medicine was used with unparalleled success in persons who were suffering attacked with the above complaints, and in every instance it proved decidedly beneficial to the sufferer.

In which every family should be provided with a bottle, affording you an opportunity to adjust the matter in any way—and the stitch may be regulated to any length, even to a half a stitch.

The stitch made by this machine is one which will not ravel or ripen, and the sewing can only be taken apart by cutting every stitch, which is done. From 500 to 1500 stitches, according to the fabric operated upon, may be taken per minute.

To bring this machine to perfection which labor and study have been expended upon it by the inventor, and the subscribers now offer the Relay Sewing Machine, feeling confident that it will correspond, upon trial, with the recommendation here given.

The results arising from the use of one of these machines, will be with ease with either of the two machines, will be six dollars per day. This operation is not confined to the manufacture of clothing only, but may be applied to sewing every description of harness, leather, jewelers' and many kinds of coal, &c.

This machine, with ordinary care, is warranted to run one year without repairs, and with the most careful and it is so simple in its construction, that it is easily learned and managed, that any person of ordinary ability may operate it.

The price of one of these machines, which is worked by a treadle, and capable of performing any ordinary kind of sewing, with silk, cotton, linen or woolen thread, complete with all its appendages and directions for operation

The machines are beautiful and neat in their appearance, and they take up little room, that they are no ornament to any lady's sewing apartment.

Any Agent, with whom exclusive arrangements will be made, is wanted in every city and town in the United States.

All applications for Agencies, and orders for machines, (which will be carefully packed and shipped to any part of the world) must be made to inquiries about their adaptation to different purposes, will be promptly attended to by the manufacturers. All letters must be post paid, and addressed to WEDNESDAY, DEC. 25, 1850.

☞ The following eloquent and patriotic letter of Hon. George Evans, was read at the great Union meeting held in the city of Bath on the 18th inst. It is a great honor to Maine that her voice has been so well expressed by the great meeting at Bath in favor of devotion to the Union; that the love of country has been so strongly manifested as in all the worthy records of that meeting. The letter of Mr. Evans makes a portion of those records. His clear head and large heart have united in this letter in giving expression and force to his lofty sentiments of patriotism, and his unwavering attachment to the principles of genuine and practical republicanism. It is an honor to Maine to have within her borders so able and worthy a representative of her patriotism and her love of, and respect for, law and order.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11

Messrs. E. C. Bailey, and others, Com., &c.

Gentlemen:—I have to express my very sincere regret, that it will not be in my power, by reason of official engagements here, to accept the invitation with which you have honored me, to attend a public meeting on the 16th inst., of the citizens of Bath and vicinity in favor of the Union and of enforcing the laws passed in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution.

I embrace the occasion, however, to declare my hearty and entire concurrence in the objects of the proposed meeting, and I hope and trust that much good may result from it.

It is full time indeed, that the friends of the Union, and of the happy form of Government under which our country has so eminently prospered, should begin to exert themselves, if they desire longer to preserve these inestimable blessings.

Very dangerous and alarming doctrines are abroad in the land, and one must be wilfully blind who does not perceive the fatal destiny to which they are hurrying us.

Until a very recent date, the propagators of these mischievous sentiments have had the field almost entirely to themselves. But it must be so no longer, and I rejoice to perceive that the good sense and sound patriotism of the people in all sections of the country is beginning to speak out loudly and firmly upon these momentous topics.

The law of the last session of Congress respecting fugitives from slavery, to which forcible resistance has been so openly threatened and inculcated, has been pronounced by eminent jurists and that most distinguished of all courts our country affords, in all respects Constitutional; an opinion in which I entirely concur. As such, it is an obligatory, and as fully to be respected and executed as any other law of the land. Resistance to it is as criminal as resistance to any other law; and he who encourages resistance, encourages the overthrow of the law, and the substitution of blind and misguided force, riot and anarchy.

Defend it, then, I entreat, my friends, our Union cannot endure—our form of Government cannot endure—our prosperity and happiness as a people, cannot longer continue, if the angry controversies which have estranged the Northern and Southern sections of our country from each other, are to be kept up with renewed and fresh bitterness. In consequence of the legislation of the last session of Congress,

The North and the South, owe it to each other and to the cause of human liberty and human happiness in all time to come, to abide faithfully and honestly by what has been done.

Bitterness on one side will beget bitterness on the other. Crimination will produce recrimination. Hostile legislation will be followed by legislation more hostile—and the inevitable result is written in all past history, for your instruction—Let us be wise enough to read it. Let us be patriotic enough, whatever differences of opinion may exist among ourselves, each in his sphere of duty and station, which have in no degree disturbed the harmony of the country, to inculcate a respect for, and obedience to the laws—and to uphold, and that every man of every party, the true principles of Civil Government, which have conferred so much prosperity and happiness upon our country.

I am, gentlemen, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

GEO. EVANS.

A correspondent of the Boston Transcript recently narrated a singular incident which happened at Piedmont, N. H., last week. Two little children, one five and the other three years of age, strayed from home. Not returning at dark, a general search throughout the night was made by the people of the village. In the morning they were discovered in an open field, lying upon the frozen ground, and locked in each others arms,—one sleeping soundly, and the other awake. Although the night was a severe one, the little ones gave no shows, as yet, an ill effect.

At Colebrook, N. H., a few days since, two boys, two sons of Elijah Currier, Esq., Charles Currier, were missed from home. Search was made for them, but was found near Monroe in the morning, the bodies of the water, having been drow... about 12 rods from the ... manner in which they p... The youngest was 12 and ... age.

☞ We have received from the publishers of the Boston Almanac a copy of this excellent work for 1851. It is a beautiful book, and so long and neat and useful as to be welcomed in every family, to which it gives admittance as a pleasant annual, a good almanac, a directory of Boston, a record of passing history, all in one, and yet costing only twenty-five cents.

This work was begun and built up by the late Mr. Dickinson, and his family still retains an interest in its publication. This is pleasant and we trust profitable, and for this reason among the numerous others existing, ought to secure for the work a liberal patronage. It may be obtained at the several bookstores in this city.

☞ The New Church Sabbath School will celebrate Christmas, this evening.

☞ No stages arrived or left Bangor yesterday from the city yesterday. The day was cold and blustering, and it will be several days before there can be much traveling.

Farming in Penobscot.—No. II.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

I propose now to say a few words on the subject of farming as it is and farming as it should be. I presume all will agree that farming in this county as it presently conducted, is a very meager business—a secondary object, indeed it will even rank as second. And those who attempt, with some few honorable exceptions, have a very vague idea of farming.

We frequently hear it said that farmers cultivate too much land; in my opinion, with exceptions provided above, you will find very little land in the whole valley of the Penobscot that is really cultivated. It is one thing to attempt, and another to do. The turning up of the surface of the soil, and then scattering a little of the grain and half opened seed over it, and even this done sometime in June, and then because a heavy crop is not realized, blame the land and the climate,—they are charged with the whole delinquency. Go out Mr. Editor—right out in mid-summer a half dozen miles in either of the avenues that lead from the city, and you will see the whole winter's manure lying out in many of the barn yards. And you call upon the husbandmen of these establishments, they will tell you that it is of no use to attempt to farm in this climate.

Now, Mr. Editor, suppose the people of this county would make farming the primary object of business, and go into it scientifically, as they do in other things, what a change would be produced. How rich we would become in a few years. Let every farmer plough and irrigate his land, clearing out its stumps and burning them, and the stones too, and putting them into a good substantial wall,—and then enrich the soil just as it may require, and then sow good seed, in good time, and my word for it they will reap their reward. Farmers begin in the wrong place. They should commence spring's work in the fall of the year. And every farmer should have his heap of compost, to which should be collected all the waste matter of house, hog-muck and everything that is ground and pounded, and thus manufacture and create the means of enriching his farm. It is not enough that he should cast out upon a large filth what little barn-yard manure he may have,—but he should add to this in every way possible, as hinted above.

It is too late this year—but next autumn, let every farmer in this county procure a George W. Chamberlain, Esq., of Carmel, a bushel or two of his beautiful variety of winter wheat, which variety he procured from Wisconsin and put all the farmers in this country thus furnished, prepare their grounds properly and sow their wheat in the fall, and my word for it, in three years from this time, Bangor will not import one hundred thousand barrels of flour to supply the wants of this county, the half of which is to be furnished from six to eight hundred thousand dollars annually.—So much for wheat. As regards corn, I desire to say distinctly, that all I have said of wheat will apply to corn raising, except that it is not a winter grain. But let each farmer in this county go to Mr. Joseph Weston of Bloomfield, and procure from him a variety of seed corn that yielded him ninety-six bushels of shelled corn to the acre; or, if more convenient call on Mr. Ebenezer Nutter of Corinna, who last year raised eighty bushels of shelled corn to the acre, of the same variety,—the ears of which are as big as a man's arm, and the kernel equal if not better than the North River corn, and then see if the climate and the soil will be chargable longer with the failure of the crops. I am not sure but that this corn may be tied for seed of seven or eight days. Allen, Esq., who resides on Essex street, set the farmers of this county so in earnest about with the foregoing hints, and in a few years the importation of these articles which is now ruining us, will become a by-word.

The Great Railway Scheme.

The following admirable letter from Gen. Dearborn of Roxbury, Mass., touching the interesting subject of the great railway scheme which is to connect the old and the new world, will be read with much pleasure and profit. We copy from the Portland Advertiser:—

HANCOCK HOUSE,
Roxbury, Dec. 10, 1850.

My dear Sir:—Facts are rapidly accumulating, verifying all the correctness of the decision of the convention, in favor of establishing the Portland and Liverpool line of communication between the cities of Europe and North America, and especially, as to the most direct route to the steamboat portion of the route, from Halifax to the western coast of Ireland. The following extract from the Freeman's Journal, is an illustration of the interest that has been excited, and the prosperity of the ocean line of railway, the Eastern and Western hemispheres.

"The mail packets to and from America now berth at north wall, Ireland, the last point of departure for the Western continent, and the first point to be reached on their voyage to eastern land, as they point decide—decided, not by government, nor legislature, but by another more necessitating fact, a physical fact just accomplished. The wires of the submarine telegraph from Dover to Calais, are, now, laid down, and have already transmitted messages along the bottom of the Straits, from land to land.

The following extract, from Dover, being thus successfully answered, there cannot longer be any doubt but that the electric wires between Dublin and Holyhead, for Ireland and England, will, within a very short time, be spanned likewise. The extension of the telegraph to any point in Ireland, is an easy matter, and the means of instantaneous communication between the remotest point of Ireland, and every important point of England, being thus established, we have at length reached the time, when the mail steamers, sailing for America, must, as a matter of commercial necessity, leave their outward moorings, at their original mail port, or, at least, make that their point to carry with them thirty hours less sea and mail, on their voyages home, than without intelligence at the same Irish port in order that they may reach England thirty hours before these news can possibly reach England themselves."

From the facts thus emphatically presented, it may be considered certain, that a submarine telegraph will be laid across St. George's Channel, connecting the portage, entry and departure, for the mail and passenger steam packets, between Europe and North America, which will be Dublin and Galway, or some other harbor on the western coast of Ireland, for the trip can and will be made, from one to the other, in less than six days, and then intelligence may be transmitted by the aid of telegraphs, to and from Paris and New Orleans, and all the intermediate offices, in a few hours more. But within five years, the Railroad from Kenteberg river to Halifax, and from Galway to Dublin, will be completed, and then passengers can pass between London and New York, in six or seven days.

The demand for the GRAND HIGHWAY OF NATIONS, is now apparent as to have roused the attention of the people of this country, the Canadas, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, England, Scotland and Ireland, and as rapidly is that demand augmenting in consequence, that there cannot be a question arise, but the work will be completed within the time which has been named.

The immediate importance of that route, to Maine and the British North American Provinces, in connection with the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad, from Portland to Montreal, and the Junction line from Quebec to Melbourne, cannot be too highly appreciated, when the vast tract of country which those lines will traverse, and that which will be tributary to them. By navigation and Rail way, from Montreal to Lakes Ontario, Erie, Huron, Michigan and Superior, are taken into consideration, the mighty elements for estimating the amount of trade which will be concentrated upon the chief termination of the combined lines.

I have recently read with deep interest, a "Practical Treatise on Canals and Railroads," and a treatise on the "Philosophy of Railroads," which were presented to me by the author, Thomas C. Keefer, Esq., civil engineer, and Civil Engineer of Canada—The great amount of statistical and historical information which he has collected, in relation to all the branches of human industry, is of unestimable value to the whole people of the British Provinces, as well as to those of the parent country and of the United States—for the future intercourse between the latter and those Provinces, is destined to be of immense reciprocal consequence.

The lucid and able manner in which the various subjects are treated, in both publications, have been treated, reflects equal honor upon the author, as a political economist and an accomplished Engineer—The facts and inductions he presents in favor of an extension of the lines of intercommunication, are so prominent as a conclusion, that they cannot fail of awakening such a liberal and zealous spirit, for more complete development of the natural resources of the Canadas, as will be commensurate with the magnificence of the natural work, and the unquestioned benefits which must result from such execution to every portion of the inhabitants.

"The Land of Eagle is entitled to the profound gratitude of the farmers, mechanics, lumbermen, merchants, navigators, and all other classes of society in an extensive territory over which he presides, at the representation of its Sovereign, for offering a premium for an Essay upon talent of superior merit; and fortunate was it, that it has superior merit; and fortunate was it, that it has rendered conspicuous a gentleman of such acknowledged intelligence, information, which has been thus commendably sought, for the promotion of so vital an object.

If the facts I have not seen, those two valuable scientific works I recommend that you obtain and read them carefully. They will be found to contain intelligence, which may be rendered subservient to the interests of Maine, in connection with the Railroads which are being projected in that State. In confirmation of this assertion, I subjoin an extract from a letter which I received from Mr. Keefer, a few days since:

"I have arrived on the eve of a general Railway movement in Canada. We have, hitherto, confined our exertions to the connection of the great Lakes with the Atlantic by ship navigation—a work we have accomplished in a substantial manner, and have erected, constructed harbors and light houses along the coast. But we have discovered that this, singular enough, cannot afford to stay up for the winter, and our geographical position is such that we have no winter outlet within our own territory. We can no longer dissemble it—we are completely in the power of New York and New England, in this respect, and our interests have fallen in propitious times, and our enterprises met with sympathizing hearts. As the great lakes are impassable barriers to a Railway trade, the ultimate commerce of Canada must concentrate upon some point on the river St. Lawrence, and as the river is navigable for every class of vessels, descending—(the Rapids between Ogdensburg and Montreal being navigable for steamers carrying 5,000 to 7,000 barrels of flour,) the point where this concentration must take place, is Montreal, already the largest city in the British American dominions, and on the line of the Atlantic and ice navigation, besides being the natural outlet of the great Ottawa river. This city is also the nearest point on the St. Lawrence, to Boston and New England.

"The Rouse's Point—already connected by Railway with Boston; there is less than 60 miles over a level plain, to strike the St. Lawrence, opposite Montreal—a point destined to be the Brooklyn of that city. From Montreal, an unbroken track of railway can, and will be extended, to Detroit river, the whole route now possessing sufficient population to support a Road by local traffic.

"From Toronto, a portage Railway is about being commenced, which, with a distance of only seventy miles, will open another communication with Lake Huron, thereby shortening the route from Boston to the straits of Mackinaw several hundred miles.

"The foregoing is a condensed view of our Railway prospects in Canada, and we are confident that both sealing and interest will lead New England to offer every commercial facility, and every opportunity of transit to Canadian trade.

"Thus you perceive how great must ultimately be the transportation of merchandize and passengers over the railroad from Portland to Montreal, as it is much the shortest route between the future Alexandria of Canada and the ocean; and with Quebec, as well as with New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Europe.

The tidings from all parts of the North and East, on both sides of the line, are cheering indeed, for there appears to be a unanimous determination, that the magnificent plan which has been so auspiciously adopted for uniting England with America, and the Anglo-Saxon race of the States and Provinces, by steamers and railroads, must and will be speedily accomplished.

The Executive and Legislature of Maine have evinced an enlightened and zealous disposition to aid in the prosecution of the work, so far as it is practicable for them to do so; while the Governors and Parliaments of Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, have promptly co-operated with the people of those Provinces, in the adoption of most efficient measures for accomplishing their portion of the labor; and I trust that Queen Victoria will point with such a favorable and imperial expression of significance towards her American Colonies, that the ministers will consider it a command to extend the required assistance from the Royal treasury.

With the most intelligent and wealthy in each section of the country through which these iron avenues are to be extended, are combined all the industrial portions of the population, whose interests are to be directly subserved thereby; and it must be constantly borne in mind that it is upon them the chief reliance is to be reposed for a triumphant result, for in this new world of liberal enterprise, there are real HERO-MEN in all ranks of the people. It is those bold and adventurous pioneers in the glorious career of civilization and refinement, who have subdued the wilderness, and converted it into a Home, worthy of the adventurous and indomitable race from which they descended.

Such self-guided and elevated principles of their respective classes, are as indispensable for the advancement and grandeur of nations, as the most illustrious among those who have become the most exalted in power and influence. History is embellished with the names and deeds of those remarkable Hero-men, from the hunter of the Rocky Mountains to Peter the Great—from the builder of a log hut to the architect of the Parthenon—from the constructor and navigator of a battery to the creator and commander of the fleet of Athens—from the village Hampden who independently "drove his team a field," to Oliver Cromwell—from Alexander Selkirk to Nelson—from the Scotch sergeant who closed the gate of Hougoumont, on the battle-field of Waterloo, to Wellington—from Watts to Sir Isaac Newton—from David Boon to Columbus—and from Miles Standish to Washington. Be, therefore, confident of entire success, for you have all the moral and physical means at command; and recollect that a sanguine spirit is the guaranty of achievement.

With sincere respect, your ob't servt.,

H. A. S. DEARBORN.

John A. Poor, Esq.

☞ AN INCORRECT FREE TRADE MOVEMENT—The New York Tribune states that a movement is afoot, by which the foreign importing agents and free trade importers design to secure the nomination of Robert J. Walker as the next democratic candidate, for the Presidency—and to carry into effect a complete free trade system in this country. A million of dollars is to be raised for the object. The would give us the direct issues of protection or free trade for the next canvass. Come on, say we.—[Ken. Journal.

Christmas Tactics.

BY WILLIAM HOWITT.

Gifts for the rich!—for they can give
Again: the poor can only thank.
A drum or fife for neighbor Jones,
Who goes so often to the Bank;
For Brown, a turkey and a hare,
A very wealthy man is Brown—
The rich Miss Smith is breaking fast,
I'll send a brace of pheasants down.

I wonder, has she made her will?
And, if she would remember me,
Closing a long and useful life.
How appropos her end would be!
I'll send a brace of pheasants down,
And, though she is too ill to read,
The last new Christmas Book,—myself
Commending to the Invalid.

Gifts for the rich; who never want!
Bring presents to the laden board;
Add to his store, who has enough;
Augmenting the abundant hoard.
Be worldly-wise, and Plenty's child
Invest in an creditor,
But give a mite to bravery, need,
For what can need in Love be low?

ORPHAN'S FAIR.

The Managers of the Orphan Asylum will hold a Fair at the City Hall, commencing this evening. Doors open, and tables Wednesday evening, the 25th.

I hope one for the sale, refreshment table, or for the fraternal, will be gratefully received, and may be sent to the Hall on Monday.

☞ Geo. Farrington keeps first rate Oysters and we would furthermore recommend his establishment as one, we venture to assert, where a supper can be had, and it sells them in any quantity, or in any shape to suit customers, a little more than one dozen boys and young ladies. Old City Market. Oyster Saloon, Hot Coffee and Pastry.

☞ Since more than one hundred persons of the first respectability, and among them nine of the best medical practitioners in this country, have certified to facts from their own experience and knowledge, beyond a doubt, that for cases of General Debility and Indigestion, giving rise to Sick Headache, Loss of Appetite, Nausea, and other Nervous Diseases, which being often misunderstood lead to the apprehension of consumption and other dreadful diseases—there is no remedy so generally indicated as HOLDEN'S ALTERATIVE AND TONIC MIXTURE. d&wlm nov 7

☞ Foster's Mountain Compound, for the Hair. It far surpasses any other Compound for the Ladies' Toilet. It possesses qualities never before combined. One bottle of it is worth more than the whole of California's gold. Its high reputation, both from individuals and the press universally, has established its reputation as the only sure remedy for all diseases of the Scalp,—Baldness and Falling Hair, removing Dandruff, &c. Its unbounded success has brought forth numerous spurious nostrums, made almost entirely of Alcohol, which are dear and sure to destroy the hair, causing baldness, and very injurious. Beware of Counterfeits.

The Mountain Compound is sought after by the elite and fashionable in all the principal cities of the Union, and is regarded the most nutritious article for giving great beauty, moisture, and richness to the texture of the hair, ever invented.

Ladies and Gentlemen, try it! It will pay, try it!!

Sold by LADD & INGRAHAM, and A. P. GUILD, and Druggists every where.

☞ A DECIDED BENEFIT.—There are few gentlemen who do not suffer from irritation of the skin of the face after shaving—and cold weather is a sad aggravation of this evil, as it is apt to produce roughness on the face.—The best preventive is found in the use of the new invention of Wm. Bogle, 377 Washington Street, Boston, whose smoothing has a soothing tendency and preservative action on the skin as other soap possesses. It is very highly prized in every variety of climate.

TELEGRAPHIC

TO THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

The Storm—Shipwrecks.

ROCKLAND TELEGRAPH OFFICE,
Tuesday Evening, 8 o'clock.

Owing to the drifted snow the roads are nearly impassable and though we hear quite a number of wrecks reported yet they are too vague to be of use. Among others a brig is reported ashore, some 3 miles north of this.—At Owls Head three vessels on the beach—one is the schooner Hudson, Capt. Berry, laden with Shooks from Prospect, vessel and cargo will probably be saved. Others not known.—At Spruce Head, sch. William, Capt. Coombs, supposed of Deer Isle, high and dry, probably total loss. Also schooner Galen, Capt. Wells of Hampden, laden with Hides from Salem to Belfast—vessel slightly damaged, will probably be saved, with cargo. At Seal Harbor two vessels reported ashore—names not known; the crew of one is said to have been lost.

TELEGRAPH OFFICE,
Rockland, Dec. 24th.

During the storm yesterday, schr Niagara, Capt Freeman Simonton, of 122 tons, dragged her anchors, and striking upon a ledge, sprung a leak, took fire and became a total loss. Insured for $3,000. No insurance on cargo. Captain and crew saved, though badly chilled.—[Tel. to Mercury.

☞ At the Art Union drawing, New York, the following names were announced: "The Trio" drawn by Watson Freeman; "View on the Hudson," New York, by Edward Lamb; "Swiss Scenery," by H. B. Wallis, Jr.; "Temple of Neptune," by J. G. Tappan; "Landscape," by H. D. Clary; a bronzed Statuette, by Joseph Day.

☞ Our neighbor John S. Ricker, Esq., Cashier of the Mercantile Bank in this city, but our city neighbor of the same name, of the firm of Ricker & Jewett, as the gentleman Director. We make this announcement to prevent all mistakes relative to the matter, several of which have been made.

☞ No mail has been received since the storm.

NOTICE.

The Stockholders of the Penobscot Steam Tow Boat Company will hold their annual meeting for the choice of Officers of such company, at their office in Bangor, on Monday the 6th day of January next, at the counting room of Simonton & Co., Exchange Street.

☞ Geo. Farrington has furnished us with a bucket of oysters prepared in his usual style and excellent, and we can safely say that it will please and interest many, for we can only say which production. It will be printed in the form of a table leaf, folded and issued inside this paper to interest and instruct the people of our city this good Christmas Day. It will lead from the present back to times of antiquity and yore.

NOTICE.

An adjourned meeting of the Bangor and Orono Bridge Co. will be held at their room TO-MORROW, (Thursday) at 2 1-2 o'clock P. M.

KITCHEN & HENDERSON'S

HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

THIS article has been before the public nearly Five years, and the proprietors are pleased to say that for REMOVING DANDRUFF from the scalp,

RESTORING HAIR WHERE FALLEN OFF TEMPORARILY,

and giving it a BEAUTIFUL SOFTNESS, AND GLOSS, CANNOT BE EXCELLED. The basis of this preservative is a pure vegetable Oil, extracted from a plant found growing luxuriantly on the Western States, and which possesses in a remarkable degree, the essential properties requisite for by acting upon and reviving its glands or roots.—Those who faithfully apply this Preservative, will be surprised at finding how quickly and clossy it renders the Hair, while it cleans the scalp of scurf or dandruff, and affords the most agreeable sensation. It has silently been extensively used, and in every instance has given perfect satisfaction.

REASONS FOR USING THIS PRESERVATIVE.

1. It is a very pretty, CLEAN article, and has an agreeable perfume.

2. It is put up in a convenient form and at a very reasonable price.

3. As a tonic, as a stimulant, it affords relief to the head-ache.

4. It gives to hard, scraggy Hair a desirable moisture and softness.

5. It promptly arrests the falling off of the Hair, where that evil has commenced, and promotes the growth of new Hair. In fine, it does all for the Hair that any preparation for restoring and improving the ornament of the Head can possibly do.

Mann's Writing Ink.
THERE is no mistake as to its excellence.—The following is the testimony of the Hallowell Democrat:—
"The Ink is manufactured by Dr. Wm. Mann, of this city. We have used it for the last eight or ten years, and can assure the public that it is an excellent article. It is a jet black, flows freely from the pen, and retains its color on our account books, after the lapse of years, as fresh as when first written. The proprietor has made little or no exertion to bring this Ink before the public, yet it is used extensively, not only in this vicinity, but in Boston and other places. He offers it cheap at his Drug Store, No 57 West Market Square."

GENUINE BALM OF COLUMBIA.

HYNSON'S Celebrated Balm of Columbia, for the Hair, is the best article ever offered to the public for the restoration of the hair, for it will make it grow on a bald head, if there is the least spark of life remaining. It will prevent the hair from falling out, and will cause it to grow where it has fallen off. It will keep the hair from turning gray, and will restore it to its original color. It will cure all diseases of the hair, such as dandruff, scaldhead, &c. It will make the hair curl beautifully, and is the most pleasant wash that can be used. A few applications will satisfy any lady or gentleman, that the above is all we recommend it to be. It strengthens the roots of the hair, and causes it to grow with a rich glossy appearance, and as a dressing for the toilet it is unequalled. Those who have been in the habit of using Hynson's Balm of Columbia, will use no other. Prepared and sold wholesale and retail by the proprietor, JOHN HYNSON, Jr., Druggist, corner of Baltimore and Calvert streets, Baltimore. Sold also by all respectable druggists throughout the United States. Price 50 cents per bottle, or $5 per dozen.

☞ Caution.—Never buy it unless you find the name of Columbia, Md., blown in the bottle, and the signature of John Hynson, Jr. & Co. Proprietors, on the wrapper of each bottle, for you will be cheated if you purchase without it.
